

ON DUTY WITH THE MAYOR

With a range of events from culture bids to Christmas lights, the Mayor of Hounslow, Councillor Tony Louki, has been kept on his toes, visiting community groups, fundraising for his two charities, Our Barn Community and Hounslow Seniors' Trust, as well as carrying out his Civic duties as the borough's first citizen!

HIGHLIGHTS

September

This month was caffeine-heavy, with the Mayor attending five Macmillan coffee mornings including one at Nikola Standing's house in Isleworth – home to three generations of bakers!

October

At the end of October, he led a delegation from Hounslow to City Hall in a vintage 1963 Routemaster bus to deliver the borough's bid to be London Borough of Culture 2021.

With the great news announced of Hounslow being shortlisted for the title, we eagerly await the final outcome in the new year. Go Hounslow!

November

The Mayor worked closely with the Deputy Lieutenant for Hounslow and the Royal British Legion branches to prepare for the Remembrance events and services at nine of our War Memorials including helping sell poppies at Hounslow House!

He also celebrated the 103rd birthday of Vera Ward, one of the borough's oldest residents, and led the council in presenting the Freedom of the Borough to Chiswick resident, Mrs Pat Davies, for her outstanding work during the war.

December

Christmas lights have gone up around the borough and the Mayor is no stranger to them, being invited to switch on the Chiswick, Hounslow and Feltham lights this year. He also invited children from Kingsley Academy to design his official Christmas card.
