1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1.1 Background

1. This cumulative impact assessment (CIA) was undertaken to support Hounslow's Statement of Licensing Policy 2020-2025.
2. Cumulative impact is a proper matter that a licensing authority (Hounslow Council in this case) can consider under the Licensing Act 2003 and its accompanying Guidance (Section 182, revised 2018). Cumulative impact is best summarised as

An area where a concentration of licensed premises, however small in number or well managed individually, causes problems or 'cumulative impact' beyond their immediate premises. In doing so, their impact must compromise one or more of the four licensing objectives, which are: the prevention of crime and disorder, public safety, the prevention of nuisance and the protection of children from harm.
3. Under the Policing and Crime Act 2017 the duty to undertake a cumulative impact assessment was made a legal requirement should a licensing authority seek to introduce or retain a cumulative impact policy (CIP). The CIA must be revisited at least every three years to see if evidence shows it remains relevant.
4. Once introduced, a CIP introduces a rebuttal principle. This means that licence applicants must demonstrate how their application is exceptional and will not harm any of the four licensing objectives under the Licensing Act 2003.
5. This CIA research is the third time the exercise was undertaken and focused on Hounslow Town Centre CIP and Heston CIP, with a Cranford 'Area of Interest' (Aoi) being examined for the first time to see if there was any evidence of cumulative impact here.
6. The aim of this CIA, which uses data drawn mostly from 2019 to 2022, is to provide an evidence base so that the Council, after public consultation, can decide:
 - Whether to rescind one or more of these CIP areas
 - Whether to retain its two existing CIP areas in Hounslow town centre and Heston
 - If retaining one or more of the CIPs, whether to change their boundaries or the type of licences that the CIPs apply to, or
 - Whether to add any new CIP areas, with a particular focus on Cranford as an area of interest (Aoi).

1.2 Findings

7. There were 872 licensed premises in Hounslow at the time of the research for this CIA. This is a change of +3.6% and 30 more venues from the last CIA in 2020 when there were 842 licences. The main change has been an increase in off-licences (+15) and restaurants (+15). The borough has lost 10 pubs.
8. Whilst examining crime and ASB statistics across the borough, the focus was on these three areas because these are the two existing CIPs where there are proven problems, whilst Cranford is an area where some residents have claimed that street drinking is a serious problem.
9. In terms of crime and disorder and ASB (i.e., public nuisance) in the borough that may be linked to the customers of licensed premises, no matter what crime or ASB type (violence, sexual crime, public order, robbery), this is always highest in Hounslow Central ward (which is at the heart of the Hounslow CIP area).
10. Heston Central, (which is the largest part of Heston CIP) is usually in the top half of all Hounslow's 20 wards for CIP relevant crimes. Cranford ward is usually in the top quarter to the top half of all wards for relevant crime types.
11. Whilst the borough does appear to have some other areas where issues may be linked to licensed premises, such as in Feltham and Chiswick, overall, the combination of data, observational evidence and community opinion suggest that the problems linked to the sale and consumption of alcohol is – currently - most strongly felt in Hounslow and Heston CIP, and to a significant extent Cranford.
12. The impact of the night-time economy on the four licensing objectives appears to have softened in the past few years with the closure of some late-night venues in Hounslow. The night-time economy, as such, is now mostly restricted to those very late night / 24hr off-licences in the town. It is street drinking and off-licences in the three areas where the evidence of problems coalesces.
13. It is clear from the fieldwork observations in 2022 that most of the street drinking hotspots in Heston and Hounslow remain in the same places as they were in 2020. A small number seem to have disappeared. This may be the result of displacement due to cleansing and / or work by the police and outreach services to engage with street drinkers.
14. In the Hounslow Town Centre CIP area there were 39 active street drinking hotspots in 2015. There were 46 active street drinking hotspots in 2020 and this increased to 53 in 2022.

15. In Heston CIP and its borders, the evidence of active street drinking hotspots fell from 36 in 2020 to 27 in 2022, but significant problems remain. The current Heston CIP boundary fits the distribution of hotspots well.
16. There are also 18 confirmed street 2022 drinking hotspots in Cranford. The worst street drinking site in Hounslow borough is located between Heston and Cranford.
17. There is a very strong correlation between the location of off-licences and street drinking hotspots. Most hotspots are within 100m of an off licence, with many as close as 50m.
18. CCTV incident footage shows that central part of the Hounslow CIP area is a location of intense street drinking activity with associated anti-social behaviour logged daily. This is where most of the cameras are located.
19. There were 1,235 incidents recorded on CCTV (of all types across) Hounslow CIP, Heston CIP and Cranford Area of Interest in a sample period of June and July 2021. Of these, 330 (or 26.7%) appeared linked to the cumulative impact of the customers of licensed premises.
20. There were 1,083 incidents recorded on CCTV (of all types) across Hounslow CIP, Heston CIP and Cranford in the corresponding period of June and July 2022. Of these, 379 (or 35.0%) appeared linked to the cumulative impact of the customers of licensed premises.
21. This equates to around six cumulative impact incidents a day (that are captured on CCTV – many more are likely to take place). It is an upward trend.
22. Over the course of 2022, if the sample of June and July were extrapolated for the whole year (assuming no seasonal variations), this would be a total of around 2,270 CCTV captured incidents linked to the customers of licensed premises in 2022 and 1,975 in 2021 within the CIP areas.
23. The Police have felt the need to provide a dedicated team of 25 officers to Hounslow town centre, albeit they do not focus on street drinking, ASB and begging alone. The Hounslow Town Centre inspector and the neighbourhood police teams who cover Heston and Cranford are supportive of the continuation of the CIP areas in Hounslow and Heston and would support its extension to Cranford.
24. In terms of alcohol-related London Ambulance Service call outs to the borough, the rate of attendances is more than twice the Hounslow average in the combined area of the CIPs and the Cranford Area of Interest.
25. Evidence shows the Parks Team spends significant time removing large quantities of street drinking (and drug) litter from six key parks in central Hounslow CIP in order to maintain high standards of cleanliness for residents. This is a significant resource impact and affects public safety, public nuisance and protecting children from harm.

26. The evidence for retaining the two existing CIPs appears strong should the committee wish to do so.
27. The impact of street drinking on Cranford is less intense, but it is still clearly a significant problem for such a small area and observational fieldwork found street drinkers behaving in an intimidating manner outside off-licences here.
28. There is some CCTV evidence that some customers of some hotels can be problematic, possibly due to intoxication. But more specialist surveillance work would need to be undertaken on this to understand the nature and extent of it.
29. There appears to be little impact on public realm safety or nuisance from pubs, bars and nightclubs within the Hounslow CIP (and there are only two pubs in the whole of Heston and Cranford). There are some individual premises in the borough that have proved problematic, and the council and police have brought licensing reviews against some of the borough's late-night premises. But individual licence reviews do not constitute cumulative impact.
30. After public consultation, should the Licensing Committee decide to retain the Hounslow Town Centre CIP area, it would be worth examining whether the eastern end of the area (London Road from Isleworth Train station to Roman Road), is still justified. Evidence of problems here were relatively modest in 2015 and 2020 such as some littering and occasional street drinking. However, in 2022 these hotspots appear to have disappeared.
31. After public consultation, if the Committee decides to retain one or both existing CIPs (notwithstanding any boundary changes) it would then need to consider if it the CIP area applies to all licence types or only specific licence types. At present there it is the researchers' view that significant evidence only exists that off-licences, and to a lesser extent, late night refreshment (littering) premises, are causing problems cumulatively.

2 CONTEXT

2.1 What is cumulative impact?

32. 'Cumulative impact', as defined by the S182 Guidance issued under the Licensing Act 2003 (revised 2018) is best summarised as follows:

*An area where a concentration of licensed venues, however small in number or well managed individually, causes problems or 'cumulative impact' beyond their immediate premises. In doing so, their impact must compromise one or more of the four licensing objectives, which are: the prevention of crime and disorder, public safety, the prevention of nuisance and the protection of children from harm.

33. Examples of cumulative impact are varied but can include burdens on public transport, the police and cleansing teams or increases in crime or nuisance that impacts upon other public space users, deters non-users or affects residents or businesses.
34. The exact wording from the Section 182 Guidance (revised 2018) is shown below.

- 14.20 The concept of "Cumulative impact" has been described within this guidance and used by licensing authorities within their statements of licensing policy since the commencement of the 2003 Act. 'Cumulative impact assessments' were introduced in the 2003 Act by the Policing and Crime Act 2017, with effect from 6 April 2018. Cumulative impact is the potential impact on the promotion of the licensing objectives of a number of licensed premises concentrated in one area.
- 14.21 In some areas where the number, type or density of licensed premises, such as those selling alcohol or providing late night refreshment, is high or exceptional, serious problems of nuisance and disorder may arise outside or some distance from those premises. Such problems generally occur as a result of large numbers of drinkers being concentrated in an area, for example when leaving premises at peak times or when queuing at fast food outlets or for public transport.
- 14.22 Queuing in itself may lead to conflict, disorder and anti-social behaviour. Moreover, large concentrations of people may also attract criminal activities such as drug dealing, pick pocketing and street robbery. Local services such as public transport, public lavatory provision and street cleaning may not be able to meet the demand posed by such concentrations of drinkers leading to issues such as street fouling, littering, traffic and public nuisance caused by concentrations of people who cannot be effectively dispersed quickly.
- 14.23 Variable licensing hours may facilitate a more gradual dispersal of customers from premises. However, in some cases, the impact on surrounding areas of the behaviour of the customers of all premises taken together will be greater than the impact of customers of individual premises. These conditions are more likely to arise in town and city centres, but may also arise in other urban centres and the suburbs, for example on smaller high streets with high concentrations of licensed premises.

35. If the Council (which is also the licensing authority) is satisfied that there is cumulative impact, i.e., problems that cannot be dealt with at the individual premises level, it may introduce a cumulative impact policy (CIP) which is an area (or Cumulative Impact Policy zone) with boundaries. In this area it then becomes the applicant's responsibility to prove how their application for a new or varied licence won't impact on the licensing objectives. This is a reversal of the usual principle where a 'responsible authority', such as the council, police, fire authority etc., must prove that a new or varied licence will cause problems. It is sometimes known as the 'rebuttal presumption'.
36. Since 2018 it has been a requirement under the law for councils to review any cumulative impact areas at least every three years and to prepare a Cumulative Impact Assessment (CIA), i.e., evidence base, to support any retained or expanded CIP area(s). This document fulfils that purpose.

2.2 What is a cumulative impact assessment?

37. Below is the exact wording from the Section 182 Guidance (revised 2018) regarding the cumulative impact assessment.

- 14.24 A cumulative impact assessment (CIA) may be published by a licensing authority to help it to limit the number or types of licence applications granted in areas where there is evidence to show that the number or density of licensed premises in the area is having a cumulative impact and leading to problems which are undermining the licensing objectives. CIAs relate to applications for new premises licences and club premises certificates and applications to vary existing premises licences and club premises certificates in a specified area.
- 14.25 Section 5A of the 2003 Act sets out what a licensing authority needs to do in order to publish a CIA and review it, including the requirement to consult with the persons listed in section 5(3) of the 2003 Act. The 2003 Act does not stipulate how the CIA should be used once published, because the requirements for determining applications for new licences or variations are the same in areas with a CIA as they are elsewhere, as set out in sections 18, 35, 72 and 85 of the Act. However, any CIA published by a licensing authority must be summarised in its statement of licensing policy. Under section 5(6D) a licensing authority must also have regard to any CIA it has published when determining or revising its statement of licensing policy.

14.26 The CIA must include a statement saying that the licensing authority considers that the number of premises licences and/or club premises certificates in one or more parts of the area described is such that it is likely that granting further licences would be inconsistent with the authority's duty to promote the licensing objectives. As part of the publication a licensing authority must set out the evidential basis for its opinion.

14.27 CIAs may relate to premises licensed to carry on any licensable activity, including the sale of alcohol for consumption on or off the premises, and the provision of late night refreshment. This includes late night refreshment providers which are not licensed to sell alcohol. A CIA may relate to all premises licences and club premises certificates in the area described in the assessment or parts thereof, or only to premises of a particular kind described in the assessment. For example, it may be appropriate for the licensing authority to only include off-licences or nightclubs within the scope of its assessment. The licensing authority must make clear, when publishing its CIA, which premises types it applies to. CIAs do not apply to TENs; however it is open to the police and environmental health authority (as relevant persons) to refer to evidence published within a CIA when objecting to a TEN.

14.28 While the evidence underpinning the publication of a CIA should generally be suitable as the basis for a decision to refuse an application or impose conditions, it does not change the fundamental way that decisions are made under the 2003 Act. Each decision in an area subject to a CIA therefore still needs to be made on a case-by-case basis and with a view to what is appropriate for the promotion of the licensing objectives. Importantly, the publication of a CIA would not remove a licensing authority's discretion to grant applications for new licences or applications to vary existing licences, where the authority considers this to be appropriate in the light of the individual circumstances of the case.

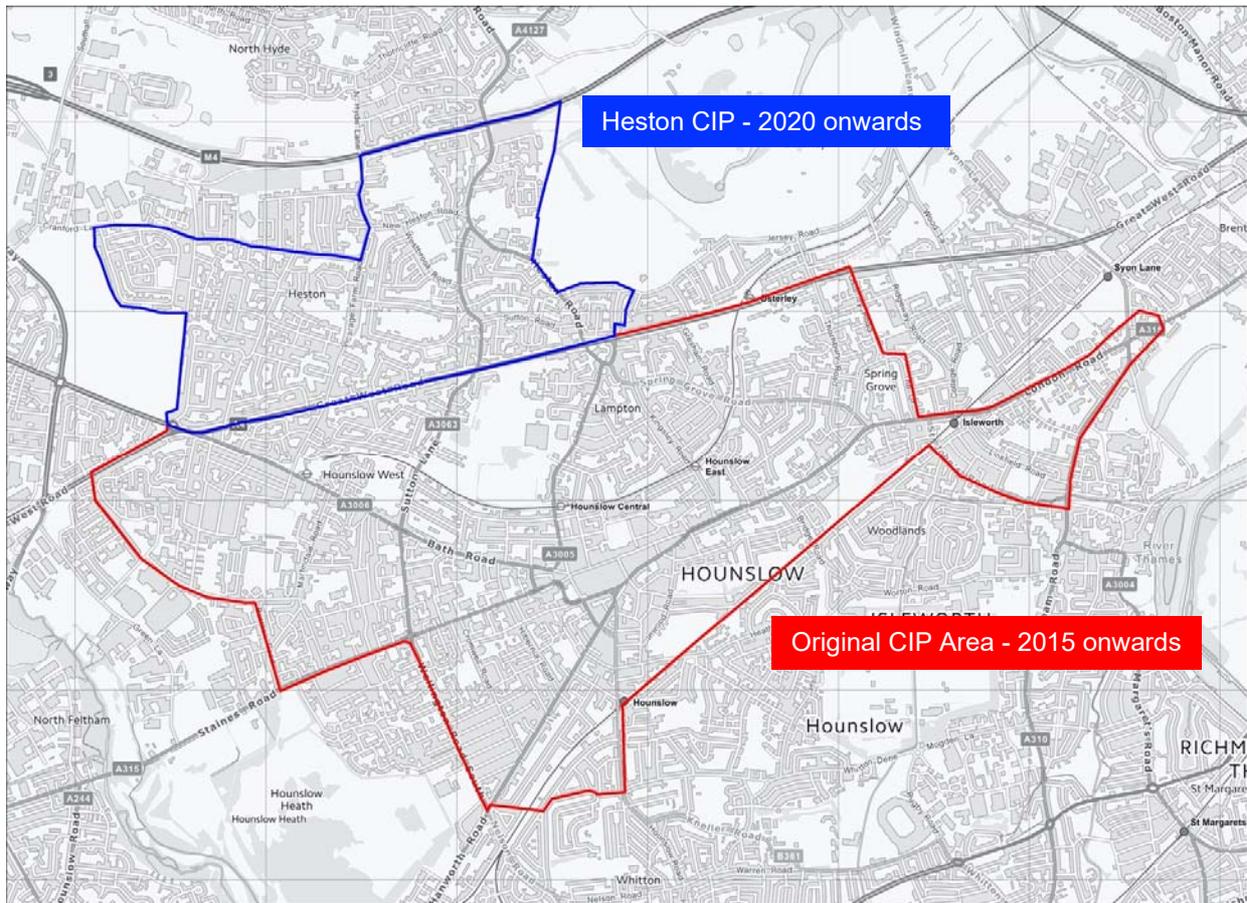

38. This study was undertaken by the specialists in licensing research, MAKE Associates working with the in-house team at Hounslow Council. MAKE developed this type of cumulative impact research and it has been used to support licensing policy evidence for councils nationally.

39. MAKE remain impartial in the pursuance of the research. It is for elected members to decide whether to introduce, rescind or modify a cumulative impact policy or not. This should be based on the evidence contained herein, as well as any additional local evidence, advice from officers, legal counsel and their own opinions, as well as those of residents and stakeholders after consultation.

3 EXISTING CIP AREAS & AREA OF INTEREST

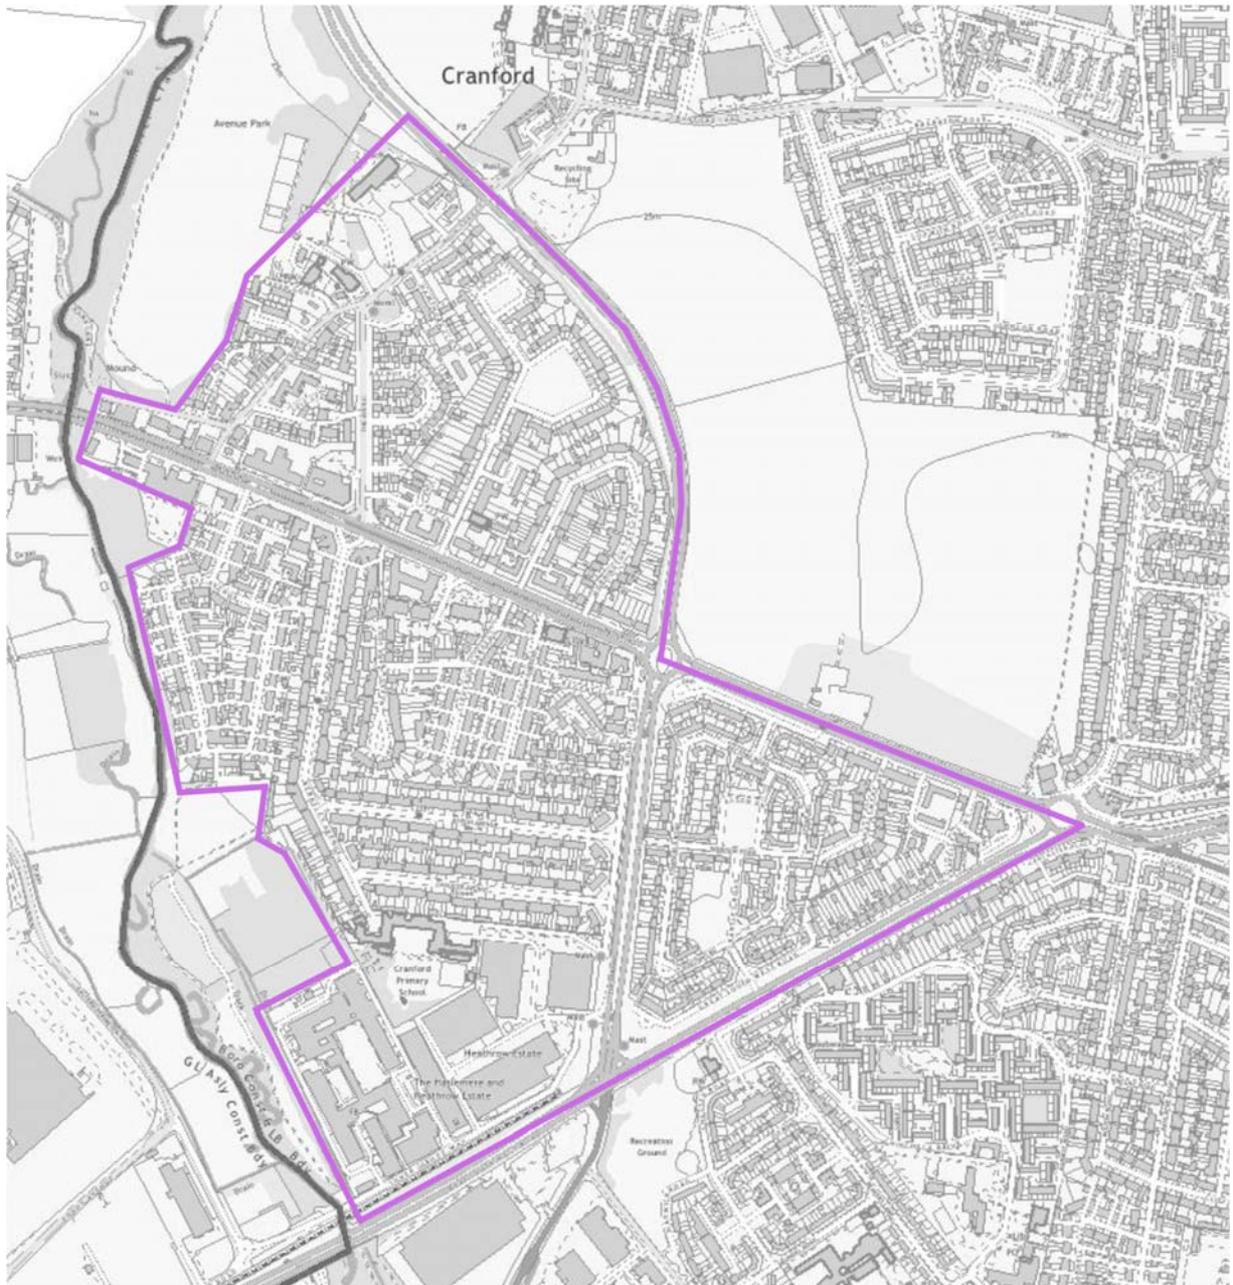

40. The map below shows the Hounslow and Heston cumulative impact policy areas adopted after the last CIA in 2020 by the Council in its Statement of Licensing Policy 2020-2025.

4 OBJECTIVES

42. The objectives of this research were to:

- Provide a Cumulative Impact Assessment in line with the Section 182 guidance accompanying the Licensing Act 2003, (updated to become a legal requirement in the Police and Crime Act 2017).
- Examine the existing CIP areas in Hounslow town centre and Heston and provide evidence as to whether cumulative impact still exists here or not, and if so to examine if the boundaries of the existing CIPs remain appropriate.
- Examine Cranford as an 'area of interest' (Aoi) for any evidence of cumulative impact, where some residents, including the Cranford Action Group, have reported high levels of problems associated with street drinking.

5 METHODOLOGY

43. The methodological approach to each type of data is shown at the start of each section.

44. Due to resource and technical capacity gaps, there were limitations on what data could be sourced. For example, crime and disorder tables are deployed rather than preferable hotspot mapping and data clocks, and these are based on boundaries of Lower Super Output Areas (LSOAs) that closely match the existing CIP areas.

45. Likewise, the researchers were only able to access the data for alcohol related hospital admissions for the previous year despite requesting three years for comparative purposes. This was due to a resource issue at the hospital.

46. The resident survey used in the previous CIA is now out of date (2018). For the purposes of this CIA, a question has been proposed on the impact of alcohol on residents' feelings of safety in their neighbourhood. for inclusion in the upcoming 2022/23 resident survey. It is hoped this can be completed in time for inclusion in the consultation period for this CIA.

47. Noise complaint data from the public to the council is often a useful source of measuring impact of those impacts of, in particularly, the night-time economy. However, currently despite specifying and examining data for the last three years, the way the council captures this data does not allow the separation of it. So, it has been left out and a recommendation made for how this could be made more useful in future CIAs, if relevant.

6 FINDINGS

6.1 Introduction

49. The findings are set out under six headings:

1. Licensed premises
2. Observational fieldwork
3. Crime and ASB data
4. CCTV data
5. Park cleansing reports
6. Hospital alcohol admissions and ambulance data.

6.2 Findings: Licensed premises

6.2.1 Background

50. It is worth noting that a lapsed licence does not mean that a premises is not continuing to operate as a legal but unlicensed venue (e.g., a restaurant not now serving alcohol) or seeking to operate again as a licensed venue in the future.
51. This licence total does not include gambling premises (unless they have an alcohol or entertainment licence, e.g., a casino). Likewise, food premises, unless they have an alcohol or entertainment licence, are not included. In the case of takeaways, these are only classed as licensed premises if they have a late-night refreshment licence (LNR) for sale of hot food between 11pm and 5am.
52. For the purposes of this analysis, a small number of places of worship and similar have been removed, restricting the analysis to those places that routinely sell alcohol (on or off premises), as well as late night refreshment).
53. It is worth noting that there are many restaurants in Hounslow that do offer takeaway hot food, but cease trading before 11pm, being either licensed or unlicensed for alcohol and / or entertainment. Whilst these do not require a licence for LNR, problems may still occur around their takeaway service.
54. The total number of licences also includes all off-licences but does not duplicate the on-premises licence of, for example, a pub that can offer off-sales.

6.2.2 Number and type of premises

55. There were 872 licensed premises in Hounslow at the time of the research for this CIA. Duplicates, suspensions or lapsed licences have been excluded. This has been exacerbated during the Covid crisis where the rate of lapsed licences and suspensions (e.g., due to non-payment of fees) has been higher than normal. This also does not include TENs licences.
56. This is a change of +3.6% and 30 more venues from the last CIA in 2020 when there were 842. The main change has been in the increase in off licences and restaurants. The borough has lost 10 pubs.

Premises Type	2020	% of 2020	2022	% of 2022
Off Licence	333	34%	348	40%
Restaurant	187	22%	202	23%
Other	153	18%	163	19%
Pub / Bar	92	11%	82	9%
Takeaway	44	5%	43	5%
Hotel	27	3%	26	3%
Cinema / Theatre	5	1%	4	0%
Nightclub	1	0%	1	0%
Annual repeat TEN	0	0%	3	0%
TOTAL	842	100%	872	100%

57. 'Other' is a broad category including the following types of licence: sports clubs, social clubs, public spaces, beauty services, works canteens, wedding venues, garden centres, offices and coworking spaces, wholesalers, shops (that are not off licences) and so on. There is no known impact on cumulative impact of these types of venues.

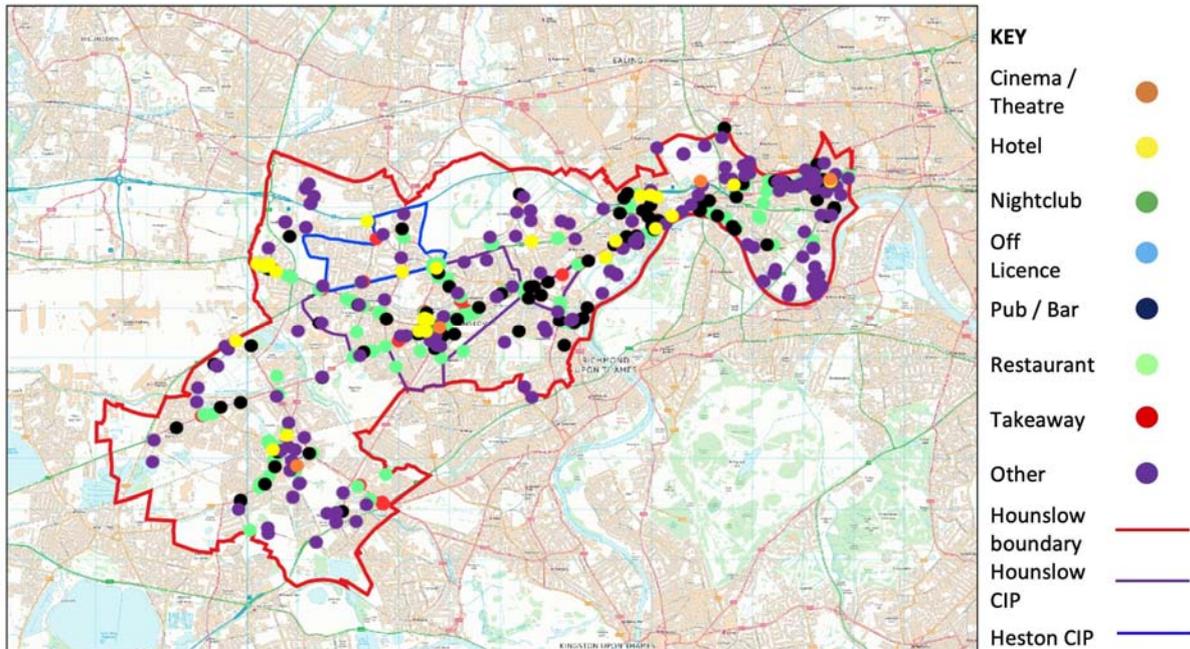

58. The map below shows the distribution of all licences in Hounslow. The main clusters are in Hounslow Town Centre and Chiswick with smaller but significant clusters in Isleworth and Feltham.

- 59. Overall, off licences dominate the borough's licensed landscape.
- 60. NB. due to the way the mapping system used, off licences are layered on top. The following maps show the distribution of the other licence types more clearly.

- 61. The next largest category of licence types is 'other'. These are found in their highest concentrations in the east of the borough mainly around Chiswick, albeit there are clusters in Hounslow town centre, Cranford and Feltham.
- 62. Hotels tend to be in the centre and western end of the borough, serving the airport. There are clusters in both Hounslow town centre and in Cranford. As the CCTV shows, there are sometimes issues linked to some guest of hotels where intoxicated customers spill out on the street.
- 63. The map below shows the location of the 'on-trade' night-time economy (pubs, bars and one nightclub).

64. The majority of NTE venues (pubs bars and nightclubs) are in Hounslow town centre and the eastern end of the borough in Chiswick and Turnham Green. There is a small cluster in Isleworth.
65. The borough's only nightclub (in green) is in the centre of Hounslow town centre.
66. The figure below shows the distribution of takeaways (late night refreshment premises) in the borough. It should be noted that there are considerably more takeaways than those shown here, but these are those operators that are permitted to open past 11pm (up until 5am) for which they require a licence.

67. The highest density of takeaways operating after 11pm is within the Hounslow CIP area.
68. An important addition note is that nearly all restaurants now function as takeaway outlets due to the rise in home delivery online services (albeit not all after 11pm).
69. The map below zooms in on Hounslow town centre and Heston CIP areas and shows off licence location in more detail.

70. Most off licences within Hounslow CIP are located on:

- a. the High Street
- b. Kingsley Road
- c. Bath Road
- d. Staines Road
- e. London Road (Spring Grove).

71. There are four clusters of off-licences in the Heston CIP area:

- f. These are on the Great West Road and junction of Vicarage Farm Road
- g. Vicarage Farm Road and Cranford Lane
- h. Heston Village Centre
- i. Jersey Parade.

6.3 Findings: Observational fieldwork

6.3.1 Background

72. Site visits to all known previous street drinking hotspots and to observe the night-time economy were made by two researchers over two weekend days / nights on 15th and 16^h September 2022. An additional daytime street drinking hotspot fieldwork visit was undertaken on 20th September.
73. The purpose was for the researchers to make broad comparisons to the 2020 CIA and to visit all known hotspots for street drinking (in Hounslow, Heston and Cranford) and observe the late-night venues in Hounslow Town Centre up until closing. This was until 3am on the Friday and until 4am on the Saturday.
74. Photographs of all sites where street drinking took place were taken (where it was safe to do so).
75. The street drinking hotspots in Cranford provided by the Cranford Action Group (and some additional Heston sites) were also visited for verification. A considerable majority of the existing sites were still being used by street drinkers with clear detritus remaining. However, a small number of previous hotspots appeared to have either been relinquished by street drinkers or had been recently cleaned by Hounslow Highways (the cleansing operator for the borough) as only cigarette butts were left - all cans and bottles had been removed. However, these were a small number of the overall hotspots sites.
76. Overall, there were more hotspots than in previous years in the two existing CIPs.
77. The images of many of these hotspots are shown in the Appendices.

6.3.2 Index of hotspots

78. Below are tables showing the street drinking (and to lesser extent fast food takeaway litter) hotspots. The first table is Hounslow CIP area, then Heston CIP are and concluding with Cranford Aol.

79. They are shown by year of CIA. A red Yes indicates the presence of a hotspot and a green No the absence (at time of survey).

80. There are more hotspots in 2022 than in previous years in the Hounslow Town Centre CIP area. But there has been clear displacement, with the eastern end of the borough being cleaner than in previous CIAs.
81. It must be reiterated that the absence of a street drinking hotspot in any year does not mean that it has permanently disappeared but that at the time of research it was clean.
82. Of the 92 sites found over the three CIAs in Hounslow, in 2015 there were 39 street drinking hotspots. In 2020 there were 46 hotspots and in 2022 there were 53 hotspots.
83. The following table shows the same data for Heston.

84. The highlighted locations in pale green are those that Heston Action Group have previously observed street drinkers and street drinking litter. We did not find any evidence of this in 2022, nor were there any reports from Hounslow Highways, the parks team or Fixed Penalty notices here. In these locations HAG did not supply any 2022 imagery of these spots for us to verify. That is not to say that street drinking does not take place in these locations over the years, but that we have no evidence from during the study periods.
85. NB. All 2015 Heston locations are listed as 'No' because Heston was not assessed in that year for cumulative impact.
86. In 2022 there were 27 confirmed active hotspots of street drinking in Heston. This is a decrease from 2020 when there were 36 active sites. Overall, the fieldwork team felt the area was visually cleaner than in 2022, however a very significant problem of street drinking remains in the neighbourhood.
87. Not all the locations in the table above are within the current Heston CIP area. The researchers were asked by the Heston Action Group to examine the area north of the M4 around North Hyde Lane, Fern Lane, The Crosslands and Kings Arbour – there was no signs of street drinking and street drinking detritus here at the time of the audit.
88. The following table shows those hotspots in the Cranford area of interest.

89. All 2015 and 2020 are shown as 'No' as an assessment was undertaken here in 2015 or 2020.
90. The 22 possible hotspot locations noted here are a combination of those reported by the Cranford Action Group and those the researchers found during the fieldwork visits. There were four sites (highlighted in pale green) that Cranford Action Group asked the researchers to visit. At the time of the audit there were no signs here of street drinking.
91. Of the 22 possible sites there were 18 hotspots for which the researchers found evidence or where evidence from the councils' various services show there are problems linked to the sale of alcohol and street drinking.

6.3.3 Mapping of hotspots

92. The maps below show all the observational data hotspots in the tables (where evidence was found for them in 2022) for street drinking in the context of the licensed premises around them.
93. The first map shows those hotspots (orange) from the researchers' street-based observations overlaid with off licences (blue).
94. It is important to note that only Hounslow Town Centre CIP, Heston CIP and the Cranford Aol were visited, so the readers should not expect to see hotspots in areas such as Feltham or the Chiswick end of the borough.

95. The map below zooms in on the specific areas of the two existing CIAs and the Cranford Aol, and shows concentrations of hotspots from other datasets in addition to those visited by the researchers as part of the research field work These other datasets include:

- FPNs - Fixed penalty notices given out for street drinking and any littering linked to alcohol and street drinking (data provided by Kingdom contractors).
- Highways – These are ‘grotspot’ call outs from Hounslow Highways (the council’s contractors) where street drinking litter and other environment grime (e.g., urination, defecation etc.) linked to street drinkers is removed.
- Parks - The Hounslow Parks Team does invaluable and effective work in cleaning up street drinking, rough sleeping detritus (mattresses, bedding etc) and drug paraphernalia form the borough’s parks.
- HAG - The Heston Action Group provided photographic evidence of some (not all) of the hotspots in its area. Some of these the researchers were able to verify on the observation audits, whilst some appeared to have been recently cleaned by Hounslow Highway or the parks team.
- CAG - The Cranford Action Group provided photographic evidence of some (not all) of the hotspots in its area. Some of these the researchers were able to verify on the observation audits, whilst some appeared to have been recently cleaned by Hounslow Highway or the parks team.

96. Overall, whilst less complete, these additional datasets reinforce many of the fieldwork observations of street drinking hotspots in Cranford Aol, Heston CIP and Hounslow Town Centre CIP (particularly around Kingsley Road, The Treaty Centre and Bath Road).
97. An overlay of off-licences (blue) and takeaways (red) with the hotspots (orange) helps us see if there are any correlations between the licences and the hotspots.

Figure 15 Street drinking and fast-food litter hotspot locations in CIPs and Cranford Aol

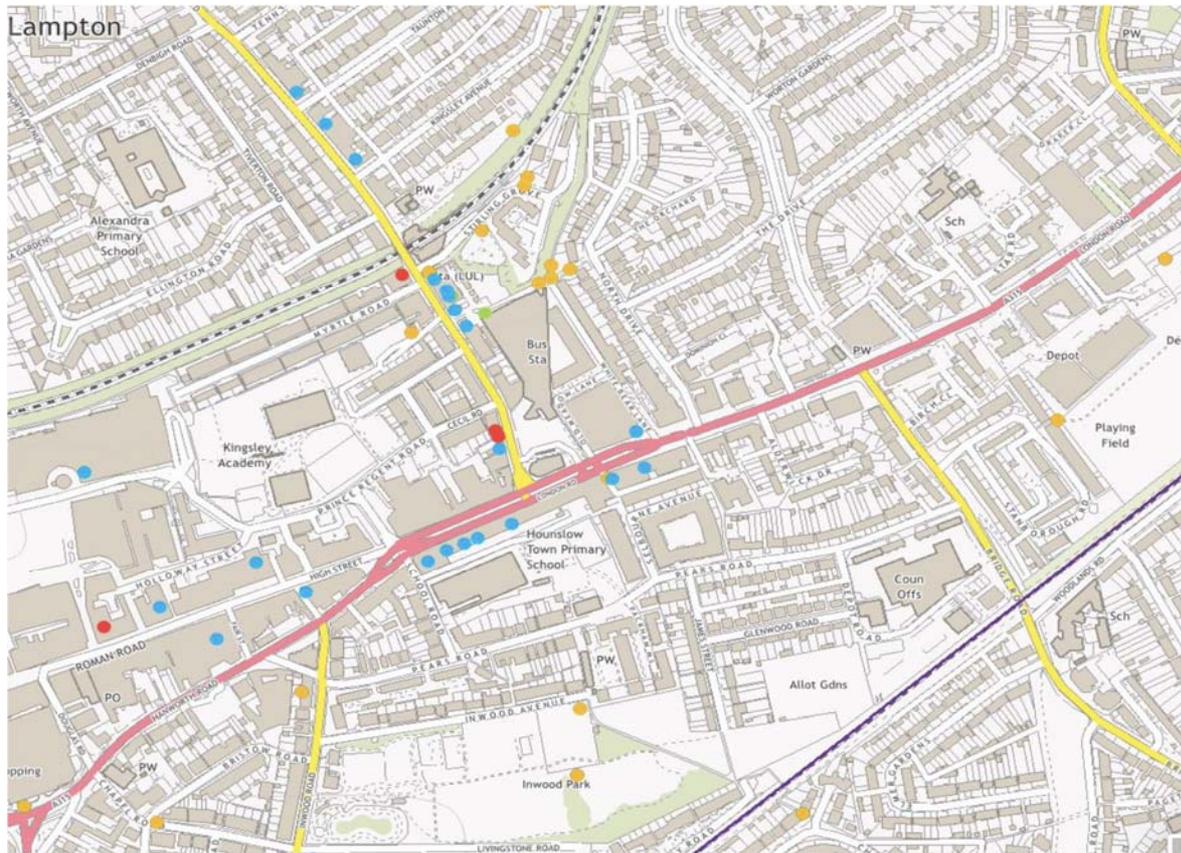

98. The general CIP-wide map shows that there are strong correlations between street drinking and fast-food litter hotspots and the co-presence of off-licences and, to a lesser extent, takeaways and in all three of the areas being examined: the Hounslow CIP, the Heston CIP and the Cranford Aol.
99. The subsequent maps show those areas in more detail.

100. During this year's (2022) field observations, the eastern end of the CIP, which has always been the least affected part of the Hounslow Town Centre CIP in previous CIAs, was even cleaner than in previous research. This may be in part due to the substantial cleansing operations that had taken place in the months prior to the CIA audit.
101. There remain hotspots in Thornbury Park near to the cluster of off-licences on London Road / Spring Grove. Albeit the street drinking detritus and drug paraphernalia here was less intense than in previous CIAs.

102. Kingsley Road (running north to south at a tangent to the main London Road) remains one of the worst affected street drinking detritus hotspots areas in the borough (see images in Appendices). In particular, street drinkers can be observed taking alcohol from the off-licences along Kingsley Road and then drinking to the rear of the bus garages and in the public rights of way between here and nearby residential areas.
103. Over the past two years the worst of these hotspots - the space behind the bus garage - has been blocked off and this is no longer the worst street drinking hotspot in Hounslow Town Centre. However, this gating appears to have displaced the activity to other nearby locations.
104. Kingsley Road Car Park on the west side of the street is also a significant street drinking and general crime hotspot.
105. To the south of London Road is Inwood Park. Here are some of the worst street drinking locations in Hounslow Town Centre. This site was one of the Parks Team's main clean up locations in summer 2022, resulting in dozens of bags of cans and bottles as well as needles (see Parks section later).

Figure 18 Off licences and takeaways with street drinking and fast-food litter hotspot locations in Hounslow central, Bath Road, Hounslow West, Staines Road (within Hounslow TC CIP)

106. The town centre section of the Hounslow CIP has significant street drinking issues in Bell Square (also the site of significant ASB and drunken activity - see CCTV section and Appendices), but also around the south (rear) of the Treaty Centre.
107. Hounslow West and its vicinity remains a significant street drinking and grime hotspot, as does Wellington Road North.
108. There is a strong correlation between most of these hotspots and nearby clusters of off-licences that are situated within 100m.
109. However, there are a small number of areas where there appears to be no strong correlation between the presence of off-licences and current street drinking hotspots, such as the south west of Staines Road and Hanworth Road. However, this may be due to the cleansing by Hounslow Highways rather than a displacement or disappearance of street drinkers.

110. The map above shows the Heston CIP and the distribution of off-licences and takeaways against 2022 street drinking (and some fast-food litter) hotspots.

111. The pattern is very much like that of 2020 but with some new spots found and some older ones having been either cleaned up or now no longer used by street drinkers. More new spots have been found than those that have disappeared. Overall, some of the spots are not as bad as 2020, but there are more of them now.

112. The worst street drinking hotspot is at the Great West / Bath Road roundabout to the extreme south west of the map. However, most of the street drinking sites within Heston remain around Heston village centre, Vicarage Farm Road, Sutton playing field, The Crossways and Cranford Lane / Brabazon Road.

113. The area north of the M4 in Heston, whilst observing one hotspot during the field observations, does not appear to have a significant problem. But it is still an area that should be monitored over the next two years.

114. There are fewer street drinking hotspots (20) in Cranford Aol and fewer off-licences (8) than in Heston or Hounslow Town centre CIPs. However, street drinking litter is a significant problem in Cranford.
115. The researchers saw two street drinking groups during the field observations. Their behaviour in the public realm could be (and was) intimidating to people.
116. The off-licences appear to sell considerable quantities of strong lagers. It is possible to deduce this from the large stacks of cans including single cans placed prominently on display.

117. The final map below shows all the hotspots from the three cumulative impact assessments in 2015 (dark red), 2020 (red) and 2022 (orange) and their changing location over 7 years,

118. The 2015 assessment (dark red dots) only considered Hounslow town centre and Isleworth, so it is limited to those areas and did not take in Heston or Cranford. But what can be seen is that over the years the eastern end of the CIP area has become cleaner. This may be due to displacement of street drinkers and / or greater effectiveness of the cleaning team. It was noticed on the 2022 audits that recently cleaning had taken place across the CIP areas and even at some of those sites in Heston and Cranford that had been raised by the local action groups had now been cleaned.

119. Despite some hotspots disappearing in 2022 (at least at the time of the audits), for example on Hanworth Road, there are a considerable number (30) of new hotspots within the Hounslow CIP area. Most of the red dots for Heston hotspots in 2020 remain but there are nine new hotspots in 2022 (the additional orange dots).

120. In Cranford there were 20 hotspots in 2022. These are new to the CIA process because Cranford Action Group has asked the council to audit the area, but historically there was insignificant informal evidence provided by residents such as photographs and written submissions to warrant including the area as a CIP area. This council now has more information on which to base its decision whether to create a Cranford CIP area.

6.3.4 Photographic hotspot log

121. A full image log for all those hotspots visited by the research team and where street drinking detritus, fast food litter and associated environmental grime was found - is shown in the accompanying Appendices document. An excerpt is shown below.

Appendix 2. Photographic incident log

Hounslow Town Centre CIP Area

Site	Location	Images	Notes
HTC1	Hounslow East Underground Station South East fencing.		Cycle shelter used as drinking space. Cleaned recently, a few cans remaining, but cigarette ends remain on floor.
HTC6	Kingsley Road to North Drive pedestrian lane		Recently cleaned of street drinking detritus. 100s of cigarette butts remain though.
HTC14	Rear (south) of Treaty Centre		Urination marks.
HTC21	Beaversfield Park, Hounslow West		The park was clean, in terms of the work of the park team, however once can see from both benches little of smoking and bottle caps from drinking. single cans and bottles left recently

6.4 Findings: Crime and ASB data

6.4.1 Background

122. No crime analyst was in position to produce hotspot mapping for this CIA. Therefore, a combination of statistics from both MOPAC's SafeStats and, primarily, the Hounslow Data Hub (which uses MPS data) were used to produce figures across four 12-month periods.
123. There are several limitations on using these data sources. Primarily the granularity is not as fine as using GIS 'polygon' boundaries (i.e., that are drawn to match the borough boundary or the CIP areas) and then calculating the number and type of incidents taking place within them.
124. To this end ward data has been used to give an overall idea of where each CIP sits in the borough-wide context of crime and ASB. The wards of Hounslow Central and Heston Central both sit at the heart of the two existing CIPs.
125. However, Hounslow CIP includes not only Hounslow Central ward, but also around 90% of Hounslow West and around 40% (but most of the housing) of Hounslow Heath wards. It also includes small proportions of several other wards. To reflect this, Hounslow Central is shown in bold red in tables and Hounslow West and Hounslow Heath wards are highlighted in un-bold red.
126. Heston CIP includes the majority of Heston Central but also large parts of Heston East and Heston West. These are shown in bold and un-bold blue respectively.
127. Cranford Aol makes up around half of Cranford ward. This is shown in green.
128. To provide a more precise level of accuracy than ward level, lower super output areas (LSOAs) were then used. LSOAs are the lowest level of ONS and police data published. The relevant LSOAs were chosen to match, as closely as possible, the boundaries of the two existing CIP areas - Hounslow Town Centre and Heston and the Cranford area of interest.
129. The Cranford area of interest is not currently a CIP so does not have a boundary. For the purposes of this a 'working boundary' was derived by using the hotspot data for street drinking litter combined with natural boundaries to decide which LSOAs should be included. Four LSOAs almost perfectly fit Cranford village.
130. However, despite this more granular approach, there is still some 'bleed'. Bleed is where the LSOAs chosen include small additional areas slightly outside of the CIPs or where a decision was taken to exclude an LSOA because only a small part of it falls within the CIP.

Our experienced view is that this will mostly even itself out and that there is unlikely to be any serious discrepancy or outlier effect.

131. It is important to note that not all crimes within these locations are related to the cumulative impact of users of licensed premises. We are using 'proxy' crimes and ASB where there is a known link to alcohol consumption and misuse at a general level. For example, violence in the night-time economy is strongly linked to misuse of alcohol. Likewise, ASB in terms of noise, urination, defecation, littering and intimidation are often linked to the presence of street drinkers.
132. However, without examining each recorded incident (which is beyond not just this study but any study due to data privacy restrictions) it would be impossible to fully assess whether each incident is linked to the users of licensed premises and the consumption of alcohol or not. To this end this data should be used alongside the photographic evidence of street drinking hotspots and the CCTV data which gives specific examples of the kind of activity taking place in the two CIPs and the Cranford AoI.
133. It is important to bear in mind that the data below is that which is recorded, not which takes place. So, while the most serious crimes, e.g., murder, attempted murder, GBH, tend to have a high reporting and recording rate, most crimes and particularly ASB have very high levels of under-reporting for complex reasons. Thus, the takeaway from this is that all these figures are likely under-reporting, and in the case of ASB and public order, this is probably very significant indeed.
134. Overall, ward populations are similar across wards - an average of around 10,000 but there is some difference (9,500 to 11,000), so the incident per resident ratio will not be directly comparable. These are absolute numbers.
 2. The data is broken down as follows:
 - All recorded crime (for context)
 - Violence and sexual offences
 - Public order
 - Criminal Damage
 - Anti-social behaviour.

6.4.3 Statement of policing inspectors

135. The two inspectors in charge of the two areas in which the Hounslow Town Centre CIP and the Heston CIP and Cranford Area of Interest were asked for a statement on the challenges the police face in terms of tackling crime and disorder and reducing public nuisance in these two areas. The following statements were provided.

"I have read the previous [2020] Hounslow Cumulative Impact Assessment and the issues highlighted around street drinkers and associated litter around the area, with certain areas being hotspots for ASB linked to drinkers. The introduction of the police's Hounslow Town Centre Team (TCT) and the renewal of the Public Spaces Protection Order (PSPO) has had a significant impact on dealing with street drinkers and ASB. I am aware that street drinking causes increases in crime and disorder and negatively impacts public confidence, making the local community feel unsafe. With the closure of several problematic venues this has also had a positive impact on night time economy. However, problems persist and to ensure that the progress we have made is not lost, I agree with the retention of the Hounslow Town Centre Cumulative Impact Policy (CIP).

Hounslow Town Centre is a significant focus for our operations. The policing priorities here are violence, ASB (including street drinking, beggars, rough sleepers and drugs), as well as violence against women and girls (VAWG), alcohol consumption, and safety in the night-time economy. The MPS has assigned a team of one inspector, three sergeants and 21 officers to the town centre to address the challenges here, many of which are to do with the consumption of alcohol, as well as illegal drugs. The Cumulative Impact Policy is an important tool that allows police to make a representation against any new or extended licence that we believe will cause problems under the four licensing objectives - particularly crime and disorder and public nuisance. The police are supportive of the regeneration of the town centre and will use our powers only where needed, but a particular challenge for us is the current number of off-licences and the alcohol they sell to street drinkers."

Insp Javid Khan, Metropolitan Police, Hounslow Town Centre, October 2022

"The policing priorities for Heston and Cranford are to challenge and apprehend volume crimes such as burglaries, theft and assaults. Other priorities include building confidence within our communities and making a positive impact against crime and offenders.

The challenges we have in these areas are burglaries, theft from motor vehicle, anti-social behaviour, drug misuse and drug dealing.

We have a dedicated Safer Neighbourhood Team of two officers for Heston and one for Cranford to address the challenges here, many of which are to do with alcohol, as well as drugs.

The Cumulative Impact Policy is an important tool that allows us to make a representation against any new or extended licence that we think will cause problems to the four licensing objectives, particularly crime and disorder and public nuisance.

The police in Heston and Cranford are supportive of the Cumulative Impact Policy to be retained in Heston and extended to include Cranford.”

Insp Anil Sharma, Metropolitan Police, Heston & Cranford, October 2022

6.4.4 All crime

136. All crime cannot be used as a 'proxy' for cumulative impact as it is too diverse, however it is useful as a baseline to show all wards as context for the subsequent indicators.
137. For all the analysed crime and ASB types, Hounslow Central is always the ward with the highest levels of recorded incidents. Heston Central is normally in the top half of all 20 Hounslow wards, and Cranford slightly above or below the median level. However, in terms of all crime, Cranford is the eighth highest ward for all crime.

139. There are around 24,000 recorded crimes in Hounslow per year. Around a quarter of all crimes are recorded in the Hounslow Town Centre CIP. Around 1,530 are reported annually in Heston CIP and around 550 annually in Cranford Aol.

6.4.5 Violence and sexual offences

140. Hounslow Central is the ward with the highest recorded violent and sexual offences. Cranford remains high and Heston remains near the median.

141. Below are violent and sexual offences by each CIP / Aol. Around a quarter of all these recorded offences take place in Hounslow Town Centre CIP.

142. On average there are almost two violent and sexual offences a day in Heston CIP and just over 200 a year in Cranford Aol. Whilst they have recently fallen in the Heston CIP and are relatively stable in Cranford Aol, they have risen in Hounslow CIP area.

6.4.6 Public order offences

143. Overall, the number of public order* offences is lower than violence and sexual assault.

144. *Public order offences include noise, drunk and disorderly, violent disorder, affray, fear or provocation of violence, threatening behaviour, harassment or the causing of alarm or distress, assaults on emergency workers, inciting racial or religious hatred and racially or religiously aggravated assault. All of these have a strong association with the night-time economy, alcohol consumption and street drinking.

6.4.7 Criminal damage

146. Criminal damage includes a wide range of activities from damage to vehicles, to buildings to internal property. However, in terms of cumulative impact, it is the damage done by some users of the NTE or by some street drinkers to fences, street furniture, cars and windows when highly intoxicated that is associated with cumulative impact.

147. Overall, the levels of criminal damage taking place are much lower than those of violence and sexual offences, ASB or public order. Hounslow Central ward has the highest levels of criminal damage with Heston and Cranford being in the middle of the 20 wards.

6.4.8 ASB

149. Antisocial behaviour (a proxy for public nuisance) is a broad category (and one where there is often a grey area between ASB and criminal activity). The most relevant elements of ASB to cumulative impact are littering and drink / drugs paraphernalia, street drinkers, begging, noise complaints, urination, car sound systems around fast food or on-trade premises and gangs gathering.
150. Whilst Hounslow Central ranks highest for ASB, it is closely followed by Hounslow West and Hounslow Heath. Cranford ward is also unusually high for ASB levels.
151. ASB was exacerbated in 2020. There are complicated reasons for this, but with the closure of on-premises for a large part of the year due to the pandemic, street drinking increased in many public locations, and this has likely had some impact on ASB figures.

Hounslow South	138	294	158	117
Total	7,405	12,647	9,522	7,850

152. Overall, the following table shows that the amount of ASB in Hounslow CIP is extremely high because it is composed of large sections of those wards with high ASB levels, such as Hounslow West and Hounslow Heath wards as well as the main area of Hounslow Central.

153. A slight outlier of a result, the Cranford ‘area of interest’ is low on recorded ASB when compared to the amount found in Cranford ward (which is a larger area). This may be attributable to some of the dense housing complexes that are part of Cranford ward but not within the Aol area.

6.4.9 Summary

154. Overall, in the wards that make up parts of the two existing CIP areas, particularly Hounslow Central, there is higher than average crime and ASB recorded incident levels. This is true for all crime and ASB types that have a strong link to cumulative impact and the retail of alcohol to street drinkers and to those in the night-time economy.

6.5 Findings: CCTV data

6.5.1 Background

155. CCTV data was mined from two sample periods of eight weeks in June and July of 2021 and 2022 and fully anonymised for use by the researchers. The data gives descriptions of each incident recorded by CCTV operatives. The process of coding data is hugely time consuming so analysing full years was impracticable.
156. There are approximately 330 CCTV camera locations in the borough run by public authorities that cover the public realm. But even with this large number they cannot cover all the borough or CIPs.
157. The main council-controlled cameras number 119 of the wireless type and 133 fixed cameras (252 in total). Incidents were also analysed from the 18 Transport for London traffic cameras (which occasionally record public order incidents), the two mobile CCTV vehicle cameras and the 58 ANPR cameras in the borough.
158. In reality, the vast majority of incidents logged in the borough from a crime and safety perspective are from the council's fixed and wireless community safety cameras.
159. Of these 252 cameras, 96 cameras are within Hounslow town centre CIP. The disproportionate quantity of cameras within Hounslow Town Centre is reflective of its high level of crime and ASB.
160. However, there only 16 cameras inside or overlooking the Heston CIP area and there are just 5 cameras in the Cranford area of interest. By default, this means that, even though Heston and Cranford are smaller areas, they still have less coverage per sq. km than Hounslow Town Centre CIP. This means by default there will be less incidents recorded in these two other locations.
161. However, despite the concentration of cameras in Hounslow town centre, these cameras cannot possibly cover every location and every simultaneous incident. As such it is important to note that CCTV data cannot be seen as a 'census' of all crime and disorder or public nuisance taking place in a town centre or the existing cumulative impact zones.
162. There are also limits on what the operator can record at any one time, and they must also prioritise when there may be multiple incidents happening.
163. Most of the serious incidents of violence, robbery and disorder will be seen or reported to the CCTV control room by either the police on patrol or the security at licensed premises and retail outlets. However, a much larger number of low-level incidents that are taking place will either be missed by operators or not prioritised because the operator needs to focus on the most serious incident at any one time.

164. It is not possible, without having a team of observers on every street corner, to capture close to the full 100% of incidents (a census). Only if this was possible would it be possible to understand what percentage of all incidents the CCTV operators actually record. Experience in this kind of research tells us the real figure will be much higher than the number recorded in the CCTV logs.
165. It is also worth noting that CCTV cameras may not sometimes be operational or may be obscured due to trees or buildings.
166. It is important to note that noise incidents are not captured. Other cumulative impact studies, where street level field observation has taken place, show that noise is a significant public nuisance issue for residents in and around the night-time economy and clusters of licensed premises. As such, this element will be missing from the CCTV data.
167. In short, it is reasonable to say that the CCTV data is a substantial underreporting of what is taking place in terms of crime and disorder and public nuisance.
168. However, the two eight-week periods of data collection do give a significant picture of the type of crime and disorder and public nuisance that is occurring in the town centre (and to a lesser extent Heston and Cranford), and crucially, at what times of day and which days of the week it is taking place. The data for the purposes here is therefore sufficiently robust.
- 169. The research showed that there were 330 incidents from 2021 and 379 from 2022 in the three areas over the two eight-week periods that could reasonably be classified as 'cumulative impact' linked to the customers of licensed premises.
170. To get to this, all incidents were manually reviewed and included or excluded based on whether they were street drinking / alcohol-related or night-time economy associated or had a reasonable correlation with the cumulative impact of licensed premises within the town centre.
171. The following criteria was used for cumulative impact:
 - a. Was there a mention of somebody entering, leaving a licensed premises (this includes off licences and late-night refreshment places as well as pubs, bars, restaurants etc.)?
 - b. Was somebody demonstrably drunk or exhibiting intoxicated behaviour (alcohol or drunk) in the town centre?

- c. Was there a fight, altercation, theft or use of drugs that could be reasonably linked to users of off licences or the night-time economy?
 - d. Was there begging associated with licensed venues specifically or targeting of the users of the night-time economy / off licences who would not be there if there were not clusters of licensed premises?
 - e. Any other incident that has a reasonable connection to the customers of the night-time economy and licensed premises, whether as a perpetrator or as a victim of crime.
172. It is important to note that in many instances it is not possible (by the very nature of CCTV data) to prove that each incident is categorically linked to a licensed premises or not. The 'balance of probability' has been used based on the fine grain detail of the individual reports. For example, if someone is staggering around in the street, whether day or night, they will likely have been drinking alcohol.
173. It is also worth noting how cumulative impact is to be interpreted. Beyond the broad statement in the s182 Guidance, it is not proscribed in detail by law. If there is a negative externality from the presence of licences, then it doesn't matter whether it is a serious crime. If a series of actions from the customers of licensed premises create a negative impact of any kind on one or more of the four licensing objectives, then it can legitimately be seen as cumulative impact.
174. So, for example, whilst an incident may take place inside a venue (and is thus in the first instance it is the responsibility of that DPS), nearly all these incidents have an impact beyond the venue. As such, a violent incident inside a pub becomes cumulative impact once they are ejected onto the street. If a police vehicle or ambulance is dispatched to bring someone out, simply the presence of these vehicles in the street is likely to have a significant impact on whether residents think their town centre or neighbourhood is safe and pleasant or a place they want to go out in the evening to (public safety).
175. This is also the case with begging. Beggars are primarily begging for money, alcohol, drugs or food, and some are organised gangs, but their presence in town centres has become an increasing presence over the past decade. They are attracted specifically by the chance of money from the customers of off licences, pubs, bars, nightclubs and restaurants, where they often sit outside and beg. Even if they are not aggressively begging, this remains an issue of public nuisance and public safety.
176. Overall, the working definition of cumulative impact for this CCTV data is "anything that could negatively affect the four licensing objectives that takes place because, on the balance of probability, a cluster of licensed premises exists in Hounslow town centre and Heston CIP areas or the Cranford area of interest ”.

177. A final technical note: the data requested was for June and July in 2020, 2021 and 2022. However, a new CCTV control room was commissioned and began operating in 2021. This used a new CCTV system called Synectic Synergy 3. In 2020 before the CCTV operators began using this system, manual logs were completed, and this meant limited information was collected. In 2021 the operators were becoming used to the system and this meant the data was better than 2020 but not yet a very completed standard, which did not happen until 2022/ until they were more equipped in using the system.
178. As a result, 2020 data was not included. 2021, while much richer, still has some small gaps but was reasonably detailed and therefore this has still been used. However, it would be hard to draw reliable comparisons between these two years in terms of absolute numbers, but it is reasonable to use the granular detail to understand the types of incidents and locations.

6.5.2 Findings

179. There were 1,235 incidents recorded on CCTV across Hounslow CIP, Heston CIP and Cranford in June and July 2021. Of these, 330 (or 26.7%) appeared linked to the cumulative impact of the customers of licensed premises.
180. There were 1,083 incidents recorded on CCTV across Hounslow CIP, Heston CIP and Cranford in June and July 2022. Of these, 379 (or 35.0%) appeared linked to the cumulative impact of the customers of licensed premises.
181. This is not statistically significant data, but it does suggest that in 2022 the problems associated with clusters of licensed premises, particularly off-licences, has become worse.
182. The CCTV descriptions in the Appendices show that these incidents are mainly street drinking, public consumption of alcohol and off-licence related, but there are a small number of incidents linked to pubs, the nightclub and hotels.
183. The tables below show the overall number of recorded incidents from each two-month sample of CCTV coverage by type of incident and by location.

- 184. Overall, most incidents captured are in the Hounslow CIP area. This is probably because of the much larger number of cameras here and the fact that the town centre is the borough's crime and ASB hotspot.
- 185. The number of incidents is negligible in Cranford and very small in Heston. This will most be due to the number of CCTV cameras being so much lower here than in Hounslow CIP area.
- 186. In terms of Hounslow CIP, the figures for the two years are quite different despite similar overall totals. There has been a fall in anti-social behaviour (linked to alcohol, street drinking or licensed premises). This is typical as ASB often saw very large rises in many council areas during the pandemic and lockdowns.
- 187. However, begging that is recorded outside licensed premises has fallen. This may be due to the work done by the police with its special town centre team
- 188. The large rise between 2021 and 2022 is in CCTV incidents linked to alcohol and street drinking, more than double. This is a significant change in the past year,
- 189. Assault and violence CCTV captured incidents has risen modestly. But this is too small a sample to draw any conclusions from.
- 190. The table below shows the data by day of the week.

6.6 Findings: Parks team reporting

6.6.1 Background

192. The Hounslow Parks Team supplied data across six key parks within the two CIP areas: Hounslow and Heston. These parks are Inwood, Lampton, Heston, Beaversfield, Kingsley and Thornbury.
193. Each park was visited by the research team during the observation stage of the assessment and the Park Ranger Operations Manager from Lampton Community Services was interviewed. The researchers also undertook an accompanied park visit with the Park Ranger team in Inwood Park to see in detail how the team works in removing street drinking litter.
194. In places, the data significantly underrepresents the hours/operations spent from the overall sites. This is because a new team of Park Rangers with new IT systems started work in March 2022 and with both a new team and system the data was not always recorded consistently during the early operations, while people were trained and became acquainted with their roles.
195. The detail below therefore does not capture the initial three months where a large amount of historic rubbish from hard-to-reach corners was removed and cleared from the parks. So, the data is from essentially May to September 2022 only and again may under represent the true picture.
196. Therefore, despite underrepresenting the true scale of the challenges, the figures still give a robust picture of the work the rangers have delivered from May to September 2022.
197. The categories of action are divided into needles removed, bags of rubbish collected, and graffiti removed. From a street drinking perspective, there is a complex crossover of drug and alcohol misuse, but the park rangers state that from these street drinking sites most of the rubbish collected is bottles and cans and other detritus solely left by street drinkers.
198. It is important to note that the data below does not include the standard park cleans/bin collections that the team make to generally keep the parks clean - these were targeted interventions to clean grotspots linked purely to street drinkers and / or illegal drug users.
199. The research team were impressed by the work of the Park Rangers and it should be noted that to undertake work to such a high standard, considerable hours and costs are dedicated by the council to addressing this problem, which constitute problems under public nuisance and public safety licensing objectives.

200. The Park Rangers are also engaged in active communication with street drinkers and those individuals and groups with complex dependencies issue, to encourage them to bag their own rubbish (which does help), and to make use of the needle boxes, and it was noted that on the visits to the parks that they were maintained to a very high degree, and the work of the Ranges has a significant positive visible impact on the parks.

6.6.2 Findings

Figure 36 Hours and collections over May to September

Park	Hours	Visits	Bags	Needles	Graffiti
Inwood	165	106	49	47	7
Lampton	156	100	86	137	6
Heston	43	79	79	0	4
Beaversfield	67	69	76	0	0
Kingsley	42	63	22	2	2
Thornbury	99	81	56	221	12
Total	572	498	368	407	31

201. Inwood and Lampton parks have required the most hours to keep clean of street drinking and other paraphernalia. The next most intensive requirement is Thornbury Park. Heston, Beaversfield and Kingsley parks are all around a third to a quarter of these requirements.
202. However, this is not directly proportionate to the amount of waste collected. Whilst all the parks in the CIPs have a considerable street drinking detritus problem, some parks are worse than others. For example, Lampton, Heston and Beaversfield appear to produce the most street drinking detritus on a regular basis, but it is Thornbury and Lampton that required the most specialist needle collections.
203. This suggests that some parks attract street drinkers who do not use illegal drugs and others where there is crossover and probably those who are first and foremost people who are rough sleeping or have street-based lifestyle and an opiates problem.
204. Overall, the data can be summarised thus: street drinking detritus, and the paraphernalia from illegal drug use in the six main parks within the CIPs, causes a significant impact on the cleanliness, safety and wellbeing of the parks and their users and is a significant drain on the Parks Team's resources, for whom it is just one of their duties.

6.7 Findings: Hospital and ambulance data

6.7.1 Background

205. The data presented here is based on two sources. First, is dedicated public health data from Hounslow Public Health Team showing hospital alcohol admissions for Hounslow residents by ward. The second is London Ambulance Service (LAS) call outs for alcohol-related injuries and illnesses by CIP area.

206. It is important to note that the number of alcohol-related ambulance pick-ups and alcohol-related hospital admissions from the borough will not match, possibly by a significant amount. This is because the recording by paramedics and hospital staff use different systems and recording will vary depending on the accuracy and resources of the staff entering the data. Secondly, not all ambulance pick-ups are taken to West Middlesex Hospital and could, depending on resources and type of illness.

6.7.2 Findings – Alcohol-related hospital admissions data

207. The table below shows all recorded local hospital admissions for alcohol by ward from September 2021 to August 2022.

208. Hounslow Heath and Hounslow Central wards (which make up most of the Hounslow CIP area) top the borough's hospital admissions for alcohol. Heston Central is also high (albeit Heston East and Heston West which make up smaller parts of the Heston CIP are lower). Cranford, as it is for many other indicators, sits somewhere in the middle of Hounslow's 20 wards (NB Cranford CIP is only part of Cranford ward).

6.7.3 Findings – London Ambulance Service call out data

209. LAS call out data for Hounslow held on the GLA's SafeStats hub was reviewed for the financial years 2019/20 to 2021/22, seven days a week and for the hours 00:00 to 23:59.
210. The data from SafeStats was reviewed by ward and then by those LSOAs most closely matching the CIP areas / area of interest, as per the crime and ASB data.
211. The LAS entry used is for 'alcohol related' call out and attendance. Whether a call out is alcohol-related is determined by the paramedic at the scene.
212. The table below shows LAS call outs for alcohol-related incidents in the borough and its wards. The data is sorted by the latest data – 2021-22 and by most call-outs to least.

20	Hounslow South	27	24	26	23
	Hounslow Total	1,035	1,117	1,561	1,422

213. The table shows that Hounslow Central is the ward with the most call outs in all years and is around twice the number of paramedic trips than any other ward.

214. All the wards that make up the CIPs are in the top ten wards overalls, with only Brentford, Syon and Osterley and Spring Grove also in the top 10.

215. The data below shows the same LAS alcohol-related call outs but for the CIP areas

CIP / Aol	2019	2020	2021	Sep 21-Aug 22
Hounslow CIP	284	336	423	447
Heston CIP	51	84	104	95
Cranford Aol	37	52	35	28
CIP / Aol Total	372	472	562	570
Hounslow Total	1,035	1,117	1,561	1,422
CIP as % of Hounslow	35.9%	42.3%	36.0%	40.1%

216. A large proportion of alcohol-related ambulance call outs attend incidents within the two CIPs and the Cranford area of interest. It varies by year but the average between 2019 and 2021 was 38%.

217. For comparative purposes, the overall area of Hounslow borough is 56.0km sq. The three CIP / area of interest areas combined are only 10.1km sq. That is, they make up 18.0% of the Hounslow borough area. Therefore, in the average year above, when 38% of incidents were falling within the CIP areas, this means the rate of ambulance related alcohol call outs for CIP areas were more than twice the frequency of the borough as a whole.

1 Introduction

- This document contains two appendices to the main Cumulative Impact Assessment of Hounslow undertaken in 2022 for publication in 2023.

1.1 Appendix 1 – Notes

- The first appendix is a set of images captured by the field researchers of key sites of street drinking in the borough. It covers the areas of Hounslow CIP, Heston CIP and the Cranford Area of Interest. In addition, there are images that have been provided by the two action groups in Heston and Cranford – these are clearly marked.
- There are two reasons why not all the street drinking hotspots are shown: firstly, there are some historic street drinking hotspots which in previous CIAs have had serious problems and have now been cleaned up or are disused by street drinkers. The second reason is that there were sometimes street drinkers at these locations during the field research, and it would have been both invasive and potentially dangerous to take pictures of the sites with the drinkers present.

1.2 Appendix 2 – Notes

- The second appendix is the full list of extracted incidents of the CCTV logs for two periods in June and July 2021 and 2022. They have been redacted of any personal details. The full methodology is set out in the main CIA.
- The incidents are predominantly in Hounslow town centre CIP (albeit they include a small number of incidents from Heston CIP and Cranford Aol).
